

My fourteen years

January 11, 2016 was a very important day for me. On that day, when I came out of my mother's stomach, I started my life. I have been 14 years since I was born. In this way, I have learned a lot. From the basic like walking and speaking to the independent life, I have paid a lot and experienced a lot.

I have learned weiqi experience so I remember a lot and gained a lot. I have been learning weiqi since I was five years old. Although I have studied for several years, I have studied with my teacher every week and fought with my classmates. However, I won't make much effort in my free time. So when I took the weiqi Level 2 level test, I failed again and again, and finally gave up weiqi. Now I think I should take the opportunity to learn weiqi seriously, so I regret it very much. This thing let me know that I should seize the opportunity of the moment, the hard work of the officer.

Games are also an important part of life. When I was a child, I played games with my father, which made me feel happy and love. Now I have gained a lot of friendship, excitement and happiness when I play games with friends. I hope that I can also play games in the future to improve family and friendship and have a relax.

This is only a small part of my 14 years of life, life is hard and happy and colorful. We need to overcome difficulties, seize opportunities and make life more wonderful.

Commented [RE1]: It has been fourteen years since I was born. I have learned a lot.

Commented [RE2]: I have played weiqi from the age of 5. I used to play it every week with my teacher and competed against my classmates. I did not practice weiqi much during my spare time so when I took a level 2 test, I failed – multiple times. Eventually, I gave up. I regretted not using the opportunity to practice weiqi seriously. This taught me to seize every opportunity and make the most of it.

Commented [RE3]: love should be loved.
... and to relax.
