My family special day is in Sunday. We are eating Dumplings in this day. Because today we have a party in today. All family are gathered in today.

A very good try, Max! I appreciate that you really followed the instructions of the paper - to 'write a blog entry in 3 to 4 sentences', which is very good! Understanding the requests of a task is critical (-means very important), otherwise we would have a hard time with our boss in the company: -)

As for the blog, when you write something that happened in the past, you need to use the past tense. Keep practicing, and you will improve your writing!
I like the way that your family celebrate Sunday, it seems very warm and pleasant!
